THE LINEARIS COLLECTION

HAND MADE

Introducing The Linearis Collection,

Glass is melted at 820°C and carefully poured into hand-carved moulds. Temperature, time and gravity work together to set the glass into the shape of the carvings and preserve the sculptured texture of each design.

THE LINEARIS COLLECTION

The idea behind this collection is to contrast the irregular glass surface texture with the smooth and sleek lines in each design. Every piece is hand-made, therefore, each panel created is unique, no two are the same. To take it a step further, we can also offer any colour you can think of in transparent, satin or pearl. Most of our customers select one of four standard options prepared by our in-house designers: satin white, clear, transparent graphite or transparent amber.

The technology we utilise make it possible to manufacture Fused Glass doors with any configuration: single doors, double doors, framed, swing, slide or slide into a special wall pocket. We can also make the doors to any size you want. Additionally, we can supply other glass elements using the same selected options for your colour and design to compliment other rooms/areas: partitions, shower enclosures, splashbacks and more. All of our glass products meet European safety standard EN14428.

LENTA

The design was inspired by the art deco era. The wide horizontal stripes fit in both modern and classic themed interiors. We usually manufacture three, five or seven stripes but their number, size and position can be altered to your requirements.

MINIMA

The Minima design was created to contrast a minimalistic and modern home, with the thinner lines emphasising the texture of the door, it's sure to be the talking point of any room you put it in. As with all of our glass products, the number and position of the lines can be changed to your liking.

COLUMNA

Slim, vertical lines give the illusion of a light and slender door. The simplicity of this design is ideal in a modern household where you want a door that subtly attracts the attention of your guests. Again, we offer three standard versions of the Columna door but can make any changes upon request.

YOUR OPTIONS

Your glass can be manufactured bespoke to your requirements, in transparent, white or pearl finishes. Majority of the time, the colours hand-picked by our designer will suit the atmosphere of your interior perfectly. On the occasion you would like something individual, that can be arranged too. The four standard options are: white, clear, graphite and amber.
