HAND MADE

Introducing The Linearis Collection

Melted at 800°C, red-hot glass is formed into hand-carved moulds. Temperature, time and gravity work together to set the glass into the form of the carvings and preserve the sculptured texture of each design.

THE LINEARIS COLLECTION

This collection contrasts irregular glass surface textures with the smooth and sleek lines of its unique design. Every piece is hand-made, therefore, each panel created is unique, no two are the same. To take it a step further, we can also offer any colour you can think of in transparent, satin or pearl. Most of our customers select one of four standard options prepared by our in-house designers: satin/white, clear, transparent graphite or transparent amber.

The technology we utilise make it possible to manufacture Fused Glass doors with any configuration: single doors, double doors, framed, swing, slide or slide into a special wall pocket. We can also make the doors to any size you want. Additionally, we can supply other glass elements using the same selected options for your colour and design to compliment other rooms/areas: partitions, shower enclosures, splashbacks and more. All of our glass products meet European safety standard EN14428.
